

Rachael Robertson

Antarctic Expedition Leader, Author and Keynote Speaker

After 15 years leading diverse and remote teams and business units, Rachael Robertson took the jump and lead the 58th annual expedition to Antarctica.

It was a tough, gruelling and exhausting year, but ultimately extremely rewarding and fruitful. The intensity of this leadership role, where the leader is on-duty all day, every day, for 12 months with no respite, gave Rachael the opportunity to road test her leadership ideas the hard way - without the luxury of peers, a desk or any way out! It was a 'leadership laboratory' in the most extreme, hostile environment on Earth.

Rachael speaks from experience, she connects deeply with audiences, relating her own challenges to the challenges of every workplace. She needs no props, no "rah-rah" moments or no forced audience participation to reach people at a deep level. She is a seasoned leader telling it how it is in her own approachable style. Audiences will leave inspired and motivated to make their own lives extraordinary.

She was just the 2nd female Antarctic expedition leader to Davis station and at 32 was Victoria's youngest ever Chief Ranger.

Prior to leading an exhibition to Antarctica she had 15 years corporate leadership experience.

Client testimonials

- Rachael was simply wonderful the evaluations gave her an enormous rating 4.8 out of 5
- Dept of Education and Training NSW
- Excellent, everyone loved her. Rachael delivered her experiences in such an unassuming way but with a touch of humour and visual appeal. And she struck just the right chord on the leadership messages. An absolute winner

- "I have seen a number of speakers over the years, however Rachael was amongst the absolute best of them. I took so much away from her amazing story, and have relayed some of her messages to other people. Love the bacon war!

- I have never received so much positive feedback from a guest speaker as I have this time. People continue to tell me how impressed they were with Rachael's story. She provided a fantastic insight into difficulties around management in a remote site. Her messages and insights can be applied within our business. She shared a range of unusual and interesting stories which made her message even stronger.
