

Mark Bunn

Health & Personal Performance Expert

Former AFL Footballer and three-time best-selling author of 'Ancient Wisdom for Modern Health', Mark Bunn combines ancient Eastern wisdom and modern science to help people enjoy 'Dharmic Living' - our 'natural high' state of health, happiness & high performance.

Uniquely blending evidence-based research, traditional and indigenous wisdom (Ayurvedic medicine), plus the secrets of the world's healthiest individuals and the highest performing business people, Mark shows people the simple steps to being happier, more resilient, more positive and productive, and how to better look after themselves (Self-Care).

In addition to his funny, highly engaging, yet down-to-earth style, what clients most love is how Mark appeals equally to both male and female (and mixed) audiences. Women love his uplifting, natural health-based messages and men are inspired by his journey from professional athlete to mental health and vulnerability advocate.

As an internationally booked health speaker - clients include CBA, NAB, Westpac, Deloitte, Duke Corporate Educ (USA), FMG (New Zealand), YPO Asia-Pacific, Hong Kong Chamber of Commerce, MLC, AMP, Toyota, Ericsson and 100's of school, government and community groups - Mark provides real-life solutions to the difficulties facing individuals & organisations today. These include high stress, anxiety, poor sleep, resistance to change, low motivation/morale, burnout and life 'im'balance.

With Mark, instead of the boring, sleep-inducing things everyone has heard before (calories this, exercise that!), you will learn timeless health wisdoms, proven since the dawn of time. In his words, "discover why things like sun gazing, earthing, living in tune with nature's cycles, connected relationships, doing one's dharma, and developing higher consciousness, are far more important than having a six-pack, grinding linseeds or activating our bloody almonds!

Regular comments include, "amazing", "life-changing" "finally something simple that inspires me to change", "best PD day in 23 years".

For an inspirational, high-energy, high-fun session around the time-tested wisdoms of health and high-performance, tailored for our hectic, modern lives, Mark Bunn is a perfect choice.
