More about Shelly Horton:

Shelly Horton is known for fronting up to uncomfortable conversations and never sitting on the fence. Her opinion can be heard nationally a number of times each week on Channel 9's Today, Today Extra, Weekend Today and 3pm Nine News. She is the lifestyle presenter and columnist for 9Honey, host of 9Honey's podcast Failing Fabulously and co-host of 9Life's Talking Married.

She's been the co-host of healthyMEtv, editor at large of the entertainment sections in the Sun Herald, National Editor of Life&Style for smh.com.au and a health reporter on ABC TV's George Negus Tonight. She was the South Pacific correspondent for the most watched entertainment program in the world - Entertainment Tonight - and she hosted the UK TV show What's On In London. Shelly worked as a newsreader on Triple J, a producer on A Current Affair and a crime reporter on ABC Radio.

Through this variety, Shelly has learned to deliver content that audiences want to hear with incredible humour and disarming honesty. She is wonderfully real and authentic and prides herself on tackling topics most shy away from. She is happy to spill the beans and give behind the scenes accounts of some of the world's biggest celebrities, having interviewed everyone from Tom Cruise and Kim Kardashian to the Dalai Lama.

Shelly is passionate about women's issues and health and is a renowned and trusted voice in the area of pop culture and entertainment. She has been the MC and hosted Q&A sessions for large events such as 9 To Thrive for Business Chicks for over 2000 people, charity fundraising galas for over 1000 people, champagne lunches for 100, and beauty breakfasts for just 40.
