

Claire Hooper

Stand-up Comedian, Writer and Presenter

Claire Hooper had a busy first few years in comedy, as a Raw Comedy national finalist in 2004, a coveted spot on the Melbourne Comedy Festival's Comedy Zone in 2005, and a Best Newcomer Nomination in 2006.

For four years Claire shared a set with Paul McDermott and Mikey Robbins on the iconic comedy show Good News Week as a team captain.

Claire hosted 5 seasons of The Great Australian Bake Off for Foxtel's LifeStyle Channel alongside the seriously funny Mel Buttle, and has been seen on Channel Ten's The Project, ABC's The Weekly, Question Everything and Spicks & Specks, SBS's Celebrity Letters & Numbers and Channel Ten's Would I Lie To You?

Claire is an accomplished podcaster, with 3 seasons of ABC's acclaimed show The Pineapple Project under her belt, plus her own podcast "I'm the Worst with Claire Hooper" where she delves into the darkest secrets of her comedy mates.

Claire is also a children's book author, a comedy director and (though it's unlikely to be relevant) a qualified garden designer.

Claire appears regularly at stand up comedy clubs all over the country and is a sought after for MC roles and comedy spots at corporate events and has done appearances for some of the largest companies in Australia not to mention charity organisations such as the Lost Dogs Home, Free The Bears Fund and Dymocks Children's Charities.

Client testimonials

“ The spritely Hooper shines... her animated expressions and dynamic movement sequences are precision quality.
