

Dave Loew

Extraordinary Cellist, Producer, Author and Speaker

An extraordinary artist, cellist, producer, author and speaker, Dave Loew has a colourful sixty-decade professional career.

As a cellist, he has played alongside numerous stars of both classical, musicals, film and pop music, including as solo cellist for such icons as Andre Previn and on films such as "The 39 Steps" with John Mills.

Dave has self steered his own career from both lows to dizzy heights now recognised through his legendary recordings worldwide on Spotify, YouTube and other platforms.

His music offers a wide spectrum, from great classics of classical, film, musicals, pop and opera with music fans across nearly all nationalities and ages!

Spotify announced Dave Loew as one of its Top 50 World Artists including both rock stars and bands!

He has sold more than 2.5 million albums and is also a highly entertaining artist and speaker, offering a variety of topics including his mental health journeys and ultimate triumphs in "how to win through and become your best self", as well as often hilarious tales from an exciting and varied career amongst some of the world's finest musicians, composers, singers and pop stars.

Dave can offer a smooth, enjoyable, rich, ambient performance on his cello with the exact music backings as heard on platforms, with an option of talks after your dinner or lunch, for cocktail parties with just soft background playing or that private occasion, he can promise to make that memorable!

He published his autobiography "I Am Cellist" in 2021, which offers rich stories about his fascinating childhood in East Africa, to immigration as a near refugee to Australia in the 1960s, as well as wartime tales (including the holocaust), working in one of London's most sparkling and industrious periods in the music world, its "Golden Age of music", and when it was prolific with numerous often eccentric, personalities, and his encounters with many, like, Spike Milligan, Mel Brooks (History Of The World), Julie Andrews and Henry Mancini(Victor Victoria), Barbra Streisand, Andre Previn, Leo Sayer, Petula Clark, Mike Oldfield, and Sir Elton John. Dave also played on recording takes for such blockbusters as Star Wars, Superman, The Omen Trilogy, James Bond films and many more.

He continues to be highly active, with a new double album in 2025 to celebrate his 50th Anniversary in music, as well as a documentary film story around his own life and unique family dynasty in the arts across the 20th and 21st centuries, scheduled for commercial release.

Client testimonials

On behalf of Qantas Airways I would like to thank you for your personal assistance and the professional manner with which you put together the Qantas/Sheraton AFTA Convention in Hobart ... It was an evening that the 800 delegates will always remember and Qantas have been receiving Australia-wide accolades for what was a magnificent performance. The music that was written for the evening and the way the artists performed was truly spectacular and without your assistance this would not have taken place.
