“ We were very pleased with the outcome of Timothy's efforts last night. I was able to relax and enjoy the night after I finally handed over the reigns when Tim arrived at the venue. We received compliments all round regarding the evening as a whole which was our intent and I believe that unless there is some pace and fluid transition between speakers the evening can fall flat. This certainly wasn't the case and Timothy was able to orchestrate all the speakers and have the audience eating out of his hand.
