

Sue-Anne Webster

Australia's leading lady of magic

Australian magician Sue-Anne Webster has accomplished more in magic than any other woman in history. In fact she is one of only two living Australian magicians profiled in the World Dictionary of Magic - Dictionnaire de la Prestidigitation - alongside Orson Welles, Harry Houdini and David Copperfield.

Acknowledged by her peers as 'Australia's Leading Female Magician', Sue-Anne also enjoys enormous respect for her contribution to the world of magic from international magicians.

Sue-Anne travels throughout the world performing, lecturing, reviewing and judging at major magic events.

She has performed in off-Broadway theatres in New York and headlined at Hollywood's famous Magic Castle and large casinos and theatres across the US, including Las Vegas. She has also performed in the UK, Paris, Munich, South Africa and elite hotels in Asia.

Sue-Anne Webster will bring charm, comedy, and amazement to your next event, leaving your guests spellbound with her dazzling displays of magic. From the moment she appears, you'll be taken on a non-stop thrill ride of illusion and fun. She can customise her show, or her character, to maximise her impact and make your next function truly magical. Sue-Anne can also compere your next awards night or special event.

Sue-Anne is featured in Deceptions Downunder, an Australian history book on magicians and is the only Australian included in Historias de Magas Antiguas y Modernas, on the great and prominent female magicians throughout history.

She has appeared in numerous television programs in Australia, the US and South Africa, been profiled in national and international magazines and newspapers and featured in two popular Australian non-fiction books, The Two of Us and 50 Years of Australian Television.

Her many impressive achievements include co-producing 'The World's Longest Magic Show' (75 hours) and making it into the Guinness Book of World Records and being voted Most Valuable Performer (with Tim Ellis) at the FFFF Close-Up Magic Convention, New York, attended by the top close-up magicians in the world.

Sue-Anne Webster is current president of the only internationally affiliated organisation of magic in the Oceania region - The Australian Institute of Magic.
