

Afterburner - Fighter Pilots

Keynotes, Experiential Workshops & Performance Coaching

Afterburner is a dynamic team of men and women who are part of the high performance military aviation community. They are the custodians of a simple process developed by fighter pilots over 60 years ago. This process significantly improved the performance of military aviation, and is so effective it is still in use today. Accelerating performance through flawless execution.

More about Afterburner:

High performing real-life fighter pilots & military aviators, helping teams learn and apply the techniques they use every day to achieve a consistent mission success rate.

Afterburner is a high performing team of men and women who are real-life fighter pilots or military aviators. The Afterburner pilots are passionate about helping people learn and apply the techniques they use every day to achieve a consistent mission success rate of 98%.

A fighter pilots' workplace is like no other. They operate in rapidly changing, complex and sometimes hostile environments, yet they consistently excel in achieving successful outcomes, they've developed the winning habit. Each fighter pilot is the product of a $15 million training program that pushes them to the limit of mental and physical performance. They'll share with you the four key secrets to increasing your performance and success rates by three times, what they call "3X".

Whether you are a leader or a valued member within a team, the methods employed by fighter pilots consistently deliver results, whether you are a high-performance sports team, a small organisation or a large complex corporation, there is something for everyone in an Afterburner experiential program. Why do you and your pilots love working with you? Because the feedback is always the same.

Afterburner keynotes and experiential programs are ranked 4.9/5.0 on Facebook and Google by hundreds of participants, not only is Afterburner the 'safe' option for your next event, the pilots will leave a lasting impression on your team and drive genuine results long after your event. The fact Afterburner continues to grow and expand its programs after 22 years is a testament to the quality and durability of the content.

The Afterburner team takes you on a journey, immersing you in their unique world. Through storytelling, video and music, you'll discover what it truly takes to be a fighter pilot. You'll soon realise these fighter pilots are everyday Joe's, who have transformed and developed into highly capable individuals through training and mastery of this very special methodology. Only 15 fighter pilots graduate from the Royal Australian Air Force's training program every two years talk about gruelling! Afterburner demonstrates that no matter who you are, you can sustainably exceed your expectations and goals. You can win.

What makes the Afterburner fighter pilots particularly adept at maintaining a clear focus on objectives in the midst of complexity, is how they maintain situational awareness or clarity each day. Afterburner will introduce the concept of situational awareness and how to achieve it by using their four-step FLEX Method.

What Afterburner talk about:

The Adrenaline Shot

To help you rally your team and remind yourself how resilient you all are, how capable you can be when you work together and the determination you share to succeed.

A short sharp keynote or half-day workshop designed to focus your people and break up the monotony of remote work. The goal? To equip your team with the skills fighter pilots use to remain effective during adversity, delivering a 98% success rate.

Flawless Execution

Whether you're wanting a keynote, team building and development or a training program- the approach remains the same. Their keynote will introduce you to the FLEX Methodology and mindset, whilst more immersive programs will allow you to practice and experience the benefits of FLEX first-hand.

To help facilitate those "a-ha!" moments, Afterburner customises their programs to ensure they are tailored to your strategic objectives to deliver a "how to get things done better, faster and with greater success" message to your team.

First, you meet your fighter pilot and learn what it takes to be one and how Flex can assist you in accelerating your own success. Your pilot focuses on everything from highly skilled commentary, awe-inspiring and compelling stories to multimedia for you to become fully immersed into their world of a fighter pilot. They might have you holding on to the edge of your seat, but most importantly, they help your people understand that success is a mindset, not a talent.

They remind you that being consistently successful is possible if we all understand the common human performance traits that get in our way and understand the simple way to manage them. Once you understand a little more about the fighter pilots secret to success, Boo and his team will take you on the FLEX journey and show how it can be applied to your life, your team and your organisation.
